The Honorable,

The Secretary of the Interior.

Sir:

On December 31, 1908, on recommendation of the Reclamation Service, 271,000 acres of land along the Big Horn River in Wyoming were withdrawn under the First Form of Reclamation Act in connection with the Yellowstone project, Wyoming. On April 5, 1909, the Reclamation Service recommended this land to be restored, for the reason that "it no longer appears necessary to the interest of the project," and the lands were accordingly restored by you on April 6, 1909.

On May 23, 1909, the Reclamation Service transmitted to this office a copy of this recommendation of restoration, together with other papers, with the statement that the same was a temporary power site withdrawal. The list was therefore reviewed in this office and it was reported to me that the lands withdrawn had no value for power purposes. No inquiry was therefore made at the General Land Office regarding ownership of the land. At the same time it was reported to me that the 54,400 acres of land along the Big Horn River in Montana, which had been withdrawn under the First Form of Reclamation Act on February 16, 1909, and restored on April 7, 1909, contained valuable power sites. Examination of the records showed

PLEASE RETURN TO THE SECRETARY.

February 9, 1900.

The Honorable,

The Secretary of the Interior.

Sir:

On October 21, 1900, my representation of the Reservation Services, 21,000 acres of land along the Big Horn River in Wyoming were withdrawn under the Third Form of Reclamation Act in connection with the Yellowstone project. On April 7, 1900, the Reclamation Service recommended this land to be restored, for the reason that "it no longer appears necessary to the interest of the project," and the lands were accordingly restored by me on April 8, 1900.
On May 25, 1900, the Reclamation Service transmitted to this office a copy of this recommendation of restoration, together with other papers, with the statement that the same was a temporary power also withdrawn. The land was therefore restored in this office and it was reported to me that the lands withdrawn had no value and were to be used for power purposes. No inquiry was therefore made at the General Land Office regarding ownership of the land. At the same time it was reported to me that the 21,000 acres of land along the Big Horn River in Montana, which had been withdrawn under the Third Form of Reclamation Act on February 12, 1900, and restored on April 7, 1900, contained valuable power sites. Recommendation of the Service about that with regard to this portion of the river, half of it was in the Crow Indian Reservation, and it was felt that the ownership by the Indians would prevent development at these points, except with proper stipulations.

On September 3, 1909, I submitted to you tables comparing former withdrawals with those made under your administration, in which it was shown that this office had recommended no withdrawals on the Big Horn River either in Wyoming or Montana. With respect to the Wyoming portion of the river it was stated that "all lands along the river of value for power purposes were in private ownership at the time of the original withdrawal." This statement is incorrect, and its appearance in the table was due to a confusion of the facts in this case with those on the Swan River in Montana where all the lands were in private ownership. This statement was an accidental substitution for the one which was prepared to appear at this point, namely, "There is no power on this stream."

It now appears that the report of the Chief Hydrographer to me, that there is no power on the Big Horn River in Wyoming, was based on incomplete and incorrect information, and in order that this error may be corrected and that there may be no question whatever regarding the protection of power sites on the Big Horn River in Montana, I recommend the following withdrawal:

TEMPORARY POWER SITE WITHDRAWAL NO. 115.

Big Horn River, Montana and Wyoming.

In aid of proposed legislation affecting the disposal of water power sites on the public domain, all public lands in the fol-that this report is this position of the river, half of it was in the Great Indian Reservation, and it was said that the ownership by the Indians would prevent development of these points, except with proper stipulations.

On September 1, 1902, I submitted to you a paper regarding the situation with these lands under your administration, in which it was shown that this office had recommended no withdrawal on the Big Horn River other than the existing one. With respect to the existing position of the river it was stated that "all lands along the river of value for power purposes were in private ownership at the time of the original withdrawal." This statement is incorrect, and the argument in the table was one to a conclusion of the facts in this case with those on the Big Horn River in Montana where all the lands were in private ownership. This statement was an accidental substitution for the one which was proposed to appear at this point, namely, "There is no power on this stream."

It now appears that the report of the Chief Hydrographer to me, that there is no power on the Big Horn River in Wyoming, was based on incomplete and incorrect information, and in order that this error may be corrected and that there may be no question whatever regarding the protection of power sites on the Big Horn River in Montana, I recommend the following withdrawal:

WYOMING POWER SITE RESERVATION NO. 115.

Big Horn River, Montana and Wyoming.

In all of proposed legislation affecting the disposal of water power sites on the public lands, all public lands in the following list are temporarily withdrawn from all forms of entry, selection, disposal, settlement, or location, and all existing claims, filings, and entries are temporarily suspended. All valid entries heretofore made may proceed up to and including the submission of final proof, but no purchase money will be received or final certificate of entry issued until further orders.

The Secretary of the Interior.

Sir:

On December 31, 1908, on recommendation of the Reclamation Service, 271,000 acres of land along the Big Horn River in Wyoming were withdrawn under the First Form of Reclamation Act in connection with the Yellowstone project, Wyoming. On April 6, 1909, the Reclamation Service recommended this land to be restored, for the reason that "it no longer appears necessary to the interest of the project," and the lands were accordingly restored by you on April 6, 1909.

On May 25, 1909, the Reclamation Service transmitted to this office a copy of this recommendation of restoration, together with other papers, with the statement that the same was a temporary power site withdrawal. The list was therefore reviewed in this office and it was reported to me that the lands withdrawn had no value for power purposes. No inquiry was therefore made at the General Land Office regarding ownership of the land. At the same time it was reported to me that the 54,400 acres of land along the Big Horn River in Montana, which had been withdrawn under the First Form of Reclamation Act on February 15, 1909, and restored on April 7, 1909, contained valuable power sites. Examination of the records showed

RECEIVED
FEB 11 1909

The Secretary of the Interior.

On December 31, 1908, a recommendation of the Reclamation Service, 251,000 acres of land along the Big Horn River in Montana, was submitted to the Secretary of the Interior. On April 8, 1909, the Reclamation Service recommended this land to be restored, for the reason that "it no longer appears necessary to the interest of the project."

The lands were accordingly restored by you on April 8, 1909. On May 26, 1909, the Reclamation Service transmitted to this office a copy of this recommendation of restoration, together with other papers, including a statement that the same was reviewed and approved by the Board of Reclamation. The list was therefore reviewed in this office and it was reported to me that the lands were restored and no other action was necessary. No inquiry was therefore made at the time of the restoration regarding ownership of the land. It is now reported to me that the 251,000 acres of land along the Big Horn River in Montana, which had been withdrawn from the public domain by the Reclamation Service, was restored to the public domain by the Secretary of the Interior on April 8, 1909.

Very respectfully,

that with regard to this portion of the river, half of it was in the Crow Indian Reservation, and it was felt that the ownership by the Indians would prevent development at these points, except with proper stipulations.

On September 3, 1909, I submitted to you tables comparing former withdrawals with those made under your administration, in which it was shown that this office had recommended no withdrawals on the Big Horn River either in Wyoming or Montana. With respect to the Wyoming portion of the river it was stated that "all lands along the river of value for power purposes were in private ownership at the time of the original withdrawal." This statement is incorrect, and its appearance in the table was due to a confusion of the facts in this case with those on the Swan River in Montana where all the lands were in private ownership. This statement was an accidental substitution for the one which was prepared to appear at this point, namely, "There is no power on this stream."

It now appears that the report of the Chief Hydrographer to me, that there is no power on the Big Horn River in Wyoming, was based on incomplete and incorrect information, and in order that this error may be corrected and that there may be no question whatever regarding the protection of power sites on the Big Horn River in Montana, I recommend the following withdrawal:

TEMPORARY POWER SITE WITHDRAWAL NO. 115.

the Indians would prevent development at these points, except proper stipulations.
On September 3, 1903, I submitted to you tables comparing former withdrawals with those made under your administration, which it was shown that this office had recommended no withdrawals the Big Horn River either in Wyoming or Montana. With respect the Wyoming portion of the river it was stated that "all lands along the river of value for power purposes were in private ownership at the time of the original withdrawal." This statement is correct, and its appearance in the table was due to a confusion the facts in this case with those on the Swan River in Montana where all the lands were in private ownership. This statement was an accidental substitution for the one which was prepared to appear at this point, namely, "There is no power on this stream."
It now appears that the report of the Chief Hydrographer states that there is no power on the Big Horn River in Wyoming, and based on incomplete and incorrect information, and in order that this error may be corrected and that there may be no question whatever respecting the protection of power sites on the Big Horn River in Montana, I recommend the following withdrawal:

TEMPORARY POWER SITE WITHDRAWAL NO. 115

Big Horn River, Montana and Wyoming.

In aid of proposed legislation affecting the disposal of water power sites on the public domain, all public lands in the fol-

...and you're not even here...

1. The first part of the paper is devoted to a general discussion of the problem. It is shown that the problem is equivalent to the problem of finding a function  $f(x)$  which satisfies the conditions

2. The second part of the paper is devoted to a detailed study of the function  $f(x)$ . It is shown that the function  $f(x)$  is unique and that it is continuous. It is also shown that the function  $f(x)$  is differentiable and that its derivative is given by the formula

3. The third part of the paper is devoted to a study of the properties of the function  $f(x)$ . It is shown that the function  $f(x)$  is bounded and that it is uniformly continuous. It is also shown that the function  $f(x)$  is periodic and that its period is given by the formula

4. The fourth part of the paper is devoted to a study of the properties of the function  $f(x)$ . It is shown that the function  $f(x)$  is convex and that it is concave. It is also shown that the function  $f(x)$  is increasing and that it is decreasing.

1. The first part of the paper is devoted to the study of the asymptotic behavior of the solutions of the system (1) as  $\epsilon \rightarrow 0$ . It is shown that the solutions of the system (1) converge to the solutions of the system (2) in the sense of the weak convergence in the space  $L^2(\Omega; \mathbb{R}^n)$ .

1. The first group of people who are interested in the study of the history of the world are the historians. They are people who study the past and try to understand what happened and why it happened. They use a variety of sources, including books, documents, and artifacts, to reconstruct the past. They also try to understand the people who lived in the past and how they thought and felt. Historians are interested in the past for a variety of reasons. Some are interested in the past because they want to know what happened and why it happened. Others are interested in the past because they want to understand the people who lived in the past and how they thought and felt. Still others are interested in the past because they want to learn from the mistakes of the past and avoid them in the future.

The Honorable,

The Secretary of the Interior,

Sir:

In accordance with your instructions of April 22, 1909, I have the honor to submit the following recommendation, which involves 1,150 acres, 600 acres being entered:

TEMPORARY POWER SITE WITHDRAWAL NO. 130

Green River, California.

In aid of proposed legislation affecting the disposal of water power sites on the public domain, all public lands in the following list are temporarily withdrawn from all forms of entry, selection, disposal, settlement, or location, and all existing claims, rights, and entries are temporarily suspended. All valid entries heretofore made may proceed up to and including the submission of final proof, but no purchase money will be received or final certificate of entry issued until further orders.

Sir:

In power-site reserve No. 137 approved by the President July 2, 1910, withdrawing certain lands along Big Horn River, Wyoming, under the provisions of the Act of June 25, 1910, (Public 303), an error occurs in the description of the lands withdrawn in T. 39 N., R. 94 W., 6th P. M. Wyoming.

It was intended to withdraw Lot 3 of Sec. 7 of this township, but the order as approved by yourself and the President withdraws Lot 3 of Sec. 8 of this township, although no such legal subdivision exists.

I, therefore, request that the designation of the lands withdrawn be corrected to read Lot 3, Sec. 7 of T. 39 N., R. 94 W., 6th P. M. Wyoming. No change in the withdrawn area will be made by the correction.

Very respectfully,

Field work in the past summer upon which the above modification of the original withdrawal is based, also indicates that the following lands are not valuable for the conservation of power, and

I therefore recommend that the order of withdrawal in so far as it related to the following lands, be vacated. The area included in this recommendation is approximately 760 acres, 89 acres being entered:

The Honorable,

The Secretary of the Interior.

All lands along the Flathead River in the Flathead Indian Reservation below Flathead Lake, Montana, have been withdrawn under the authority given by Sec. 22 of the Act of March 22, 1909, (35 Stats. 795), because of their value for power sites but no action has been taken withdrawing the lands along the shores of Flathead Lake, which have a very large power value in connection with the lands already withdrawn along the river.

The Chief Hydrographer of the Survey reports from the field that while the withdrawals along the river between the Lake and Dixon, Montana, control possible power development to the amount of 77,000 horsepower, the power value of the same portion of the stream will be increased to 259,000 horsepower, or almost 3 1/2 times by the storage of water in the Lake to a height of 3 feet above the maximum high water of the Lake and 9 feet above the high water of 1909. It is therefore fully as important for the Government to control the storage possibilities of the Lake as to control the power development along the river.

An examination of the records of the General Land Office and the Indian Office shows that approximately 40% of the shore line of the Lake is patented land and that the remaining 60% is either covered by trust patents of Indian allottees, which can be cancelled under the provisions of the Act

September 27, 1910.

The Honorable,

The Secretary of the Interior,

All lands along the Flathead River in the Flathead Indian Reservation than below Flathead Lake, Montana, have been withdrawn under the authority given by Sec. 22 of the Act of March 22, 1909, (35 Stat. 755), because of their value for power sites but no action has been taken withdrawing the lands along the shores of Flathead Lake, which have a very large power value in connection with the lands already withdrawn along the river.

The Chief Hydrographer of the Survey reports from the field that while the withdrawals along the river between the Lake and Dixon, Montana, con-rol possible power development to the amount of 77,000 horsepower, the power value of the same portion of the stream will be increased to 252,000 horsepower, or almost 8½ times by the storage of water in the Lake to a height of feet above the maximum high water of the Lake and 2 feet at the high water of 1909. It is therefore fully as important for the Government to con-rol the storage possibilities of the Lake as to control the power development along the river.

An examination of the records of the General Land Office and the General Land Office shows that approximately 40% of the shore line of the Lake is extented land and that the remaining 60% is either covered by trust patents of Indian allottees, which can be cancelled under the provisions of the Act of June 25, 1910, (Public 313), or is vacant land which is now withdrawn for survey preparatory to disposition under the provisions of Sec. 23, of the Act of April 12, 1910, (Public 130).

(3) The matter is of such importance and the magnitude of the power so great that I recommend the reservation of the lands adjoining the Lake. This reservation can in my opinion be so made that it will give the Government control of the situation and at the same time permit the development of the "villa sites" or summer homes contemplated by the provisions of Sec. 23, of the Act of April 12, 1910, (Public 130), and will allow Indian allottees to retain allotments in the neighborhood of the Lake. To this end the following order is recommended for consideration and appropriate action by yourself and the President:

ORDER OF WITHDRAWAL.

Power-Site Reserve No. 151.

Flathead Lake, Montana.

It is hereby ordered:

(1) That so far as any of the following described lands are public lands subject to the provisions of the Act of June 25, 1910, (Public 303), all portions thereof which lie within a belt extending from the Lake to 100 feet inland from the high water mark of 1909, be and the same are hereby withdrawn from settlement, location, sale, or entry, and reserved for water power sites, subject to all the provisions, limitations, exceptions, and conditions of said act;

(2) That so far as any of the following described lands are subject to the provisions of Secs. 13 and 14 of the Act of June 25, 1910, (Public 313), all portions thereof which lie within a belt extending from the Lake of June 25, 1910, (Public 212), or its vacant land which is now withdrawn for survey preparatory to disposition under the provisions of Sec. 23, of the Act of April 12, 1910, (Public 130).

The matter is of such importance and the magnitude of the power so great that I recommend the reservation of the lands adjoining the Lake.
This reservation can in my opinion be so made that it will give the Government control of the situation and at the same time permit the development of the "Villa Atlas" or summer homes contemplated by the provisions of Sec.
23, of the Act of April 12, 1910, (Public 130), and will allow Indian allottees to retain allotments in the neighborhood of the Lake. To this end the following order is recommended for consideration and appropriate action by yourself and the President:

ORDER OF WITHDRAWAL.

Power-Gits Reservoir No. 131.

Flathead Lake, Montana.

It is hereby ordered:

- (1) That so far as any of the following described lands are public lands subject to the provisions of the Act of June 25, 1910, (Public 203), all portions thereof which lie within a belt extending from the lake to 100 feet inland from the high water mark of 1909, be and the same are hereby withdrawn from settlement, location, sale, or entry, and reserved for water power sites, subject to all the provisions, limitations, exceptions, and conditions of said act;
- (2) That so far as any of the following described lands are subject to the provisions of Secs. 13 and 14 of the Act of June 25, 1910, (Public to 100 feet inland from the high water mark of 1909, be and the same are hereby reserved from location, entry, sale, allotment, or any other disposition for the reason that the same are valuable for power sites;

(4) That the Secretary of the Interior under the provisions of Sec. 14, of the Act of June 25, 1910, (Public 313), shall proceed to cancel the trust patents to Indian allottees so far as they affect the portions of tracts hereby ordered withdrawn:

Sir:

On November 9, 1909, an engineer of the Geological Survey after field examination recommended the "reservation of all the lands within the Spokane Indian Reservation which touch the Spokane River" and all public lands along the opposite bank of the river because of their great value for power. More particularly he pointed out that at the Narrows alone 30,000 horsepower could be developed and that the Narrows' power had even been estimated to have a potential value of 80,000 horsepower.

Examination of the records indicated that there were not sufficient lands along the south bank of the river to warrant a withdrawal and that there was no law under which the lands in the Indian Reservation might be withdrawn.

Under the provisions of Secs. 13 and 14 of the Act of June 25, 1910, it is now possible not only to withdraw these Indian lands but to cancel trust patents issued to Indian allottees covering lands which are valuable for power.

The value of this power is so great, it is so favorably situated with reference to market, and its development without the retention in the people of the right of beneficial control so imminent that I recommend the

Under the provisions of Secs. 18 and 19 of the Act of June 25, 1910, it is now possible not only to withdraw these Indian lands but to cancel trust patents issued to Indian allottees covering lands which are valuable for power.

The value of this power is so great, it is so favorably situated with reference to market, and its development without the retention in the people of the right of beneficial control so imminent that I recommend the withdrawal of all available lands on both banks of the river and to this and have prepared the following order of withdrawal for the consideration of yourself and the President:

ORDER OF WITHDRAWAL.

Power-Site Reserve No. 152.

Spokane River, Washington.

It is hereby ordered:

- (1) That so far as any of the following described tracts are public lands subject to the provisions of the Act of June 25, 1910, (Public 303), they be and the same are hereby withdrawn from settlement, location, sale, or entry, and reserved for water power sites, subject to all the provisions, limitations, exceptions, and conditions of said act;

The Honorable,

The Secretary of the Interior.

Sir:

Noted
W.B.H.

By reference from your office, I am in receipt of the petition of the City and County of San Francisco for the withdrawal of certain lands under the provisions of the Act of June 25, 1910, (Pub. 303), across which the petitioners contemplate the construction of a canal from the Lake Eleanor Reservoir to the City. Since there is no statute under which a permanent right of way for such public works can be secured, and since the specific location of the canal has not been determined, I recommend the submission of the following order of withdrawal to the President for appropriate action, in order that the present status of these lands may be maintained pending proposed legislation.

The order recommended includes all lands desired withdrawn by the petitioners except certain subdivisions which were reserved under the provisions of the above act as Power-Site Reserve No. 142, approved by the President July 2, 1909. It is believed that the withdrawal as regards these lands should be maintained in its present form pending definite location by the City of its canal line.

Very respectfully,

Respectfully referred to the President with favorable recommendation.

The Honorable,

The Secretary of the Interior.

Sir:

I am in receipt of a letter from the Assistant Commissioner of the General Land Office dated February 14, 1911, relative to two tracts known as the Sherwin and Mono administrative sites in the Inyo National Forest, California, which were withdrawn March 2, 1909, as power-sites. This withdrawal has not been confirmed by the President under the provisions of the Act of June 25, 1910 (Public 303), and the Assistant Commissioner suggests that in view of the proposed elimination of these tracts from the national forest, steps be taken to retain these lands in public ownership pending the more exact determination of their power values. Such information as the Survey has been able to obtain relative to these lands indicates the possibility of their use in connection with power development, and I therefore recommend the submission to the President for appropriate action of the following order of withdrawal, involving 322 acres.

The Honorable,

The Secretary of the Interior.

Sir:

Your instructions of June 25, 1910, direct that in order that the provisions of Section 2, of the act of May 13, 1910 (36 Stat. 357), may be carried out, an investigation of water-power sites in the former Siletz Indian Reservation, Oregon, be made. Accordingly on August 16, 1910, I recommended the temporary withdrawal of certain lands in this reservation, stating that a preliminary investigation indicated that these lands included a power-site. This withdrawal as approved on August 17, 1910, included not only a portion of the lands previously reserved for administrative purposes as provided in the act of August 15, 1894 (23 Stat. 325), but also other lands for which trust patents had been issued to Indians.

A survey has recently been made for the purpose of determining the most advantageous site for prospective power development and the lands necessary thereto. From this survey it appears that the area required for an intake reservoir will
